Subject: microsoft settlement

To the Department of Justice:

I strongly believe that Microsoft and the American public deserve a fair, equitable, and timely settlement of the Microsoft dispute. Microsoft is the firm that "got their first" and through their innovative technological and economic skills built the business that exists today. The entire technological industry is exploding now and growth has its own momentum. Much of it is due to Microsoft that got the ball rolling. Now is the time to quit the haggling and let Microsoft get on with its business, unencumbered by repeated challenges.

I became a small stockholder in the 1980's because my intuition told me they were on track. They had the key that opened the door then, and I believe they still are a wonderful example of American ingenuity in an open market. Have me become a nation that punishes the successful? I hope not.

Sincerely,
